Since 2010, politicians across the country have passed over 300 new laws that make it harder for women to get abortion care. In Virginia, politicians have passed laws that do things like:

- Require women to have an ultrasound, whether or not the doctor says it is necessary,
- Make it illegal for medicaid to cover abortion even if the woman’s health is at risk,
- Make it illegal for health insurance in the online marketplace to cover abortion care except in cases of life endangerment, rape or incest.

18. Do you feel this trend is going in the right direction or the wrong direction?
